Kiwanis Speaker Predicts Million People for S. D.

BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU MANAGER WARNS AGAINST DISHONEST PRACTICES

The members of the Ocean Beach Kiwanis Club heard a talk by Frank E. Jennings, manager of the San Diego Better Business Bureau, at their Tuesday night meeting in Wallace Hall. Mr. Jennings told many enlightening instances of crooked business practices which have been investigated and prosecuted by the Bureau.

The speaker was very enthusiastic about the future of San Diego, predicting a million population within a comparatively short time, and he emphasized that this growth in population would require an even greater vigilence against dishonest business practices.

President Henry Holman presided at the meeting. Earle Shaw was chairman of the program. A guest was Ed Griswold of the San Diego Kiwanis Club. The board of directors held a short meeting following the general meeting.

Bethany Lutheran Church Celebrates Tenth Anniversary

"The Lord Is My Light!" will be the theme at Bethany Lutheran, Sunset Cliffs Blvd. and Cape May Ave., this coming Sunday when the congregation celebrates the tenth year of its organization, and also the Centennial of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Missouri, Ohio and other states, with which Bethany Lutheran is affiliated.

The original chapel in which the congregation worships is the gift of Mrs. Victoria Kunz, who with the assistance of Mrs. Martha McAlpine, Mrs. Alice Morris and Mrs. Arthur Porter, organized the Sunday school which met in the old Woman's club house at the foot of Newport Ave. Mrs. Kunz died three months before the dedication of the Chapel. In September, 1941, Bethany opened a Christian Day school.

The 8 and the 10:45 o'clock services this Sunday will, says Pastor Martin Lankow, ask the Lord's future guidance in blessings. An anniversary and reunion banquet will follow the second service.

Ocean Beach Flier Killed in Crash Near Pacific Isle

Edward Van Hecke of 5064 Long Branch Ave. received word from the War Department Wednesday that his son, Corp. Donald K. Van Hecke, was killed in the crash of a B-29 bomber at sea near Kwajalein in the Pacific Sunday morning. The plane was on a routine flight from Kwajalean to Guam and crashed soon after take-off. Sixteen officers and men were killed in the crash.

Corp. Van Hecke was born in Salem, South Dakota, in 1925. He attended school in San Diego, graduating from Grossmont High school in 1944. He enlisted in the air force shortly after graduation and was transferred overseas in January 1946. He was stationed at a 20th Air Force base on Guam, serving as a radio operator on a B-29 crew.

Surviving besides his father is a sister, Dorothy Van Hecke of the Long Branch address.

Lions Club Sees Sound Movies by Courtesy of Army

"Plan For Peace" and "Operation Crossroads" were the sound films shown to members of the Ocean Beach Lions Club last Thursday, April 17, when they met for the first time in their new quarters in the Ocean Beach Community Center.

Almost a 100 percent attendance was maintained by attendance chairmen Spike Webb and Milt Plummer. During the dinner, which was prepared and served by Harry Masters of the Masters Food Shop, the attendance prize was raffled and was won by Nat Schoen.

Following the dinner Bill Valentine of the Beach 'N' Bay Realty Co. was inducted into the den by President Stone and membership chairman Hollobaugh. Program chairman Jack Zahn then introduced Master Sergeants Vasil and Hopkins of the U.S. Army who in turn presented the sound films of the Bikini bombing. Guest for the evening was Sheldon Moore.

Legion Auxiliary Essay Contest Creates Interest

By Myrtle Orrick

Regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary, Clyde A. Wright, Unit 433, was held April 17, in the Women's Club House.

Gordeen Loy reported the following students of Dana had entered the Americanism essay contest: Pat Sumner, Donald Freatman, Clarene Fitzgerald, Betty Cravens, Emma Norman, Dorothy Balough, Cora Gorky, Sylvia Miller, Dick Moore, John Murphy, Claudia Fleener, Grace Field, Richard Learman, Lillian Harnes, Ann Standefer, Virginia Evans, and Thomas Brit.

The students' names do not accompany the papers when they are received by our Unit, she stated.

Myrtle Orrick reported she had attended a radio broadcast and luncheon at Imig Manor in honor of the Department Community Service Chairman Ruby Stump, last Friday and relayed Mrs. Sump's message that we must not give up our disaster and relief activities but should hold more first aid and nutrition classes to be prepared in case of need in our community.

Mrs. Orrick stated that she still maintains an emergency center at her home and is registered under the Red Cross. Cancer booklets were distributed to the members

Youngs addressed the California Library Association convention in Coronado, a few months ago, on a similar subject.

Our Schools Are Our Heritage --- Support Them

MISSION BEACH POOL REOPENS UNDER CITY RECREATION MANAGEMENT

Two members of the Ocean Beach News staff were present at the sneak preview of the remodeled Mission Beach Plunge last Tuesday, along with 30 other press, radio and city officials. All were impressed by the complete change in the pool. The new underwater lighting, the three diving boards, the new paint and the celotex ceiling, which reduced sound vibrations from 15 to three-second duration, have made it one of the finest indoor pools in the country.

The pool is now operated by the city recreation department, having been returned to the city recently after four years of wartime use by the navy. Public Works Director Verne Parker estimated that the total cost of remodeling was over $40,000. Most of this amount was advanced by the navy to cover war use and damage.

At the luncheon which followed the inspection tour, the press representatives were addressed by Councilman Gerald Crary and other officials.

The pool will be the scene of the Southern Pacific A. A. U. Indoor Swimming Championships tomorrow (Saturday).

STORY OF THE FISHING PIER

By F. G. Swan

This week we will try to acquaint our readers with a general picture of the pier itself—the dimensions and facilities included in the tentative plans. It is to be emphasized that these are not the final plans and are only those recommended by one element of the many fishing pier enthusiasts. It sometimes seems that the many divergent groups who are pulling for the pier have but one thing in common—and that's a genuine desire to see it completed. As to the location of the pier, the construction of the pier, and, above all, who is to get the credit for getting us the pier, there seems to be a wide divergence of opinion. If we should be permitted to voice our edito-

STATE FAILS TO APPROVE FUNDS FOR BAY PROJECT

Word was received here yesterday that the State Senate Water Resources Committee had refused to recommend an immediate appropriation of $446,000 for flood control phases of the Mission Bay development project. City Planning Director Glenn A. Rick, who attended the hearing before the committee, reported on his return that this refusal may slow the work on the project, but the city will continue with its dredging program in the bay area.

The city has spent nearly $1,500,000 to date on the project. It is hoped, however, that the state will eventually reimburse the city to the tune of $1,826,000 for work done by the latter in flood control. The project calls for a total outlay of $17,000,000, most of which, it is hoped, will be pro-

Report to the County

SAN DIEGO CHAMBER of COMMERCE
by Seymour E. Francis

County Hospital is asking $2,815,000 for its operations during the 1947-48 fiscal year beginning July 1. That seems like a huge increase over the present year's budget of some $1,750,000, until you realize why the added funds are needed.

The biggest reason seems to be the addition of the Camp Elliott Custodial Annex, which is that portion of Camp Elliott taken over by the Board of Supervisors to be used for custodial cases. These cases are the aged indigent of the county, who must have bed care.

In addition to this, inflation has hit the hospital just as it has your home, and supplies, food, drugs and labor cost more.

The supervisors haven't yet acted on the request, and the budget may be slashed before it reaches you in the form of a tax figure.

John Doubenmier, hospital assistant superintendent (administration), provided the above figures at the last meeting of the County Development Federation in the La Mesa Country club.

The idea of unity which has been spreading since the first of the year gained some additional converts this past week, as representatives of towns from San Diego to El Paso met to promote a transcontinental highway linking Savannah, Ga., and San Diego County.

Named the U. S. Highway 80 Association, the new group will publicize and advertise the highway as an all-year, sunshine route to southern California. The Association hopes to lure many of those who travel west to use U. S. 80, thus benefiting all the towns along the way.

Those who think of San Diego County as a little spot on the southwest corner of a U. S. map should take a day and travel into the back country. It gives some idea of just how big this country is, and how many regions—all lovely—it has.

This past week we took a day off from the desk routine, and went north to Oceanside, then over to Fallbrook, Vista and Escondido and down to Ramona, Lakeside, El Cajon and in from the east. It was a 162-mile trip that was packed with swell people and grand sights.

The roses around Vista and Fallbrook were the largest we've seen. Great, massive colorful flowers that towered high off the ground. Orange and lemon and avocado groves that stretched for miles. Picturesque missions.

And strawberries like I've not tasted for years, gigantic, tastefull berries freshly picked from a field a little way out of Escondido on Highway 395. We used 'em with a bit of sugar, a bit of short bread and whipping cream.

Those of you who like to drive could find no better trip than that loop. You can start just about anywhere on the route and wind up about five or six hours later with a day you'll remember for a long time.

If you've got one, take a camera along. You'll see a lot of things you'll want to snap.

COUNTY FAIR SPONSORS TO ENTERTAIN PUBLISHERS AT DEL MAR TONIGHT

Associate publishers L. B. and F. G. Swan of the News will be among the guests at the annual press dinner of the 22d District Agricultural Association tonight (April 25) in the Jockey club of the Del Mar Turf club on the fairgrounds. More than 75 delegates of the Fourth Estate will be present.

The association, which sponsors the annual San Diego County Fair at Del Mar, to be held this year from June 27 through July 6, will reveal details and progress on the Fair, this year being planned on a much more elaborate scale than the 1946 edition which attracted more than 166,000 visitors.

Featured speakers on the program will be Paul T. Mannen of Vista, president of the 22nd District Agricultural Association, and Heifeld, director of speed and events for the Fair.

Pt. Loma Seniors To Present 3-Act Comedy May 8, 9

"Come Rain or Shine," to be presented May 8 and 9 by the Senior A Class of Point Loma High, will star Carol Ihrig in the role of Jac, vivacious 20-year-old daughter of the Grayson family. Sharing the honors as Mrs. Grayson are Norma Ghio and Barbara Carr, while Quentin Decker and Irving Rogers double as Jac's younger brother, Glen. Harry Shannon appears as Mr. Grayson, a newspaperman.

Dale Shoupe portrays a tall, dark and handsome young professor and Arita Winston is seen as Rosemary March, lovely but nasty granddaughter of the owner of Mr. Grayson's newspaper. In the role of Irene Holden, a friend of Jac's, is Annabelle Ryan. Nancy Peterson is seen as Agnes Holden, sister of Irene and "girl friend" of Glen. Julia March, grandmother of Rosemary, is played by Lois Stephenson and Mary Perestrello.

Other parts in the play, which was written by Marripane and Joseph Hayes, are taken by Joanne Jensen, Joan Clarkin, Jerri Patterson, Bob Shobe, June Blackett and Earl Lennon.

The scene of the play, a light comedy in three acts, is laid in a summer cottage on the shore of a lake about 40 miles from a large city. The trials and errors of Jac and her friends in a recently formed summer theatre at the lake keep the plot moving and provide a good evening's entertainment for young and old.

Tickets are being sold by the cast and all seniors for the small sum of 50 cents.

Louise Freitas, Florinda Neto, Dorothy Baker, Virginia Brown, Vic Rosa and Alyce Rosa are among those actively engaged in the ticket sale.

ATHLETIC PROGRAMS GET UNDER WAY AT NEW OCEAN BEACH COMMUNITY CENTER

"SHOP IN OCEAN BEACH"

TEEN CHATTER

By Alyce Rosa

Beauty and brains do go together! Yes, lovely Kampus Katz really proved this point last Saturday when they presented their first annual dance "Shipwreck" at Wallace Hall. A clever desert isle motif was chosen for the decoration—fish nets were featured. The floor show, mc'd by pert prexy Ginny Clark, featured Bill Carlisle at the piano and a new version of the old favorite "Hartaches" by a quartet of KK's." Beverly Cornet, Betty Steely, Bonnie Graham and Doris Braden attired in tricky hula skirts, sang "Shipwrecked" to the tune of "Heartaches"—good, good! Yours truly was THAT thrilled to be the holder of the lucky raffle ticket who received the gal's prize—a beautiful hand-painted, silk bandana. Harry Dunstan got the fellow's prize, a matching scarf—which his date Burt Crowdus insists she can use for a bandana too! Guests were invited to come to this closed bid affair dressed as they would be at a "Shipwreck." Emil Jouglet and Jackie Gleason were caught in night shirts; club-member June Belloff and her date, Gene Brown, were sailors in the last vestige of their "Fatigues"; Dee Dee and Pat Shannon apparently were already on the island when the ship was wrecked—their sarongs were lovely; Mal Silva and Poppy Wilson had been on the island so long they were forced to improvise sarongs of burlap bags; and Bill Butcher couldn't have been lovelier as a hula dancer—Joyce Bischoff, his steady, came as a naval ensign. Congratulations "KK's" for a terrific dance—we're already looking ahead to next year's event!

Social committee from Point Loma High school ,co-chairmened by Caryl Buell and Peggy Malm, told us that the annual ASB ball is set for May 16 at the Thursday club—it'll be called "Twilight Trance" and really promises to be great. May 2 isn't too far off, kiddies, so start thinking about the drill team's first annual dance to be given in the girls' gym. Come in your prints 'n' cords and dance to the music of name bands! Then on May 9 (how busy can we get?) it'll be time to get the formals out of moth balls for the semi-annual, city-wide ROTC ball. Hear tell that this event will be open-bid—so don't miss it! Time for you Juniors to start thinking about the Junior Prom which will take place late in May in the girls' gym of Point Loma High.

Graduation fashions are foremost in the minds of senior girls and their mothers these days. We glimpsed the following fashionably dressed seniors and moms at a recent fashion show and brunch in the Continental room of the San Diego hotel: Evelyn Petty-Mrs. Petty, Lois Stephenson-Mrs. Stephenson, Jean Wright-Mrs. Wright, Kathleen Woodall-Mrs. Mary Campbell, and about 500 others.

Congratulations are in order to Kearny High school's lettermen who recently spent one of their Saturdays collecting donations, on street corners in the downtown area, for the Cancer Foundation. This worthwhile project, which could well be repeated, proves that teenagers do take an interest in the world about them—and realize that cancer kills one person every THREE MINUTES.

Didja know that come April 28 Betty Steely will be all of 17 years old? And didja know that Margie Arney, pianist of note, and Roy Schoonover have been going steady for nigh onto 16 months?

The drama department of Point Loma High school has announced that the Senior A play, "Come Rain or Come Shine," will be presented in the school auditorium on May 8 and 9. The three-act comedy, to which the public is cordially invited will have Carol Ihrig and Earl Lennon in leading roles. Another drama on schedule is "World Without Men," a fantasy to be sponsored as an afternoon event by the girls' league. Under the direction of Leah Pierce, the following girls will appear: Ethel Williams, Arita Winston, Virginia Xavier, Ida Johnson, Flo Neto, and Frances Maloney.

A dance which ninth graders at Dana Junior High won't soon forget was "Freshman Frolic" which took place in the school recreation room on April 17. An "April Showers" theme was chosen for the decorations and cake and punch were the delicious refreshments. Among the many couples on hand for a super afternoon of dancing were: Dave Hammet-Pat Jacobson, Calvin Burns-Rita Taylor, and Gordon Zick-Gloria Storm, Don Hammond-May Rosa.

And so ends this week's round-up of the talk o' the teens—this is Alyce Rosa signing off and reminding all you kids who have news for Teen Chatter to call B-5745.

Elliott Roosevelts Visit at J. C. Young Home; Both Impressed with Growh of O. B.

(By Claire Hollobaugh)

Mrs. J. C. Young of 4405 Narragansett answered the door when I called at her home last Tuesday afternoon to interview her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Roosevelt. Mrs. Young immediately introduced me to the Roosevelts and then to the others in the room: Mr. and Mrs. Herff Emerson of North Park, Mrs. Roosevelt's brother and his wife; and John Nichols, another brother to Mrs. Roosevelt, who resides at the Young home. Lawrence Young, Mrs. Roosevelt's older brother was absent from the family reunion as he is now studying at a New Mexico college. The Roosevelts arrived by plane from Los Angeles Tuesday.

Mrs. Roosevelt, who is known to many as Margaret Faye Emerson, also brought her son, William Wallace Crawford III, with her from New York. The boy, whom she has nicknamed "Scoopy" will be 7 years old in June and attends school in Hyde Park, New York. He arrived at the Young residence Friday and will remain through this week, after which he will be taken to visit his grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Crawford of Golden Hills. He will later rejoin his parents in New York. The Roosevelts left Wednesday for the east.

I had not been there long before Miss Zelda Schumann-Heink of Coronado, granddaughter of the late great singer Madam Schumann-Heink, arrived. Mrs. Roosevelt greeted her affectionately, as Miss Schumann-Heink is an old friend and was maid of honor at Mrs. Roosevelt's wedding. The two became fast friends when they were working together in the Globe Theatre of San Diego. Miss Schumann-Heink is rehearsing at present for the role of Ruth in "Pirate of Penzance," one of the light operas to be given at Balboa Park this summer.

Mrs. Roosevelt told me she was a graduate of Point Loma High, class of 1936, and attended State College, where she majored in drama before signing a movie contract. At present she is making no plans for further pictures but instead is traveling with her husband. One of the most interesting of Mrs. Roosevelt's recent experiences occurred last December 22 when she met Josef Stalin in his office at the Kremlin in Moscow. Elliott Roosevelt was at the time interviewing Stalin. When asked what she thought of Moscow she replied, "It's a very interesting city." She finds trav-

OCEAN BEACH CRACKERBOX DERBY RULES

THE OCEAN BEACH KIWANIS CLUB

To The Entrant:

Here is a fine opportunity for you to join with your friends in an event created solely for the purpose of inspiring you, to accept the challenge of true competition and sportsmanship. Set for yourself the goal of being a winner, a winner in all respects. Win or lose the race, you will still be a winner if you have done your best. That is the true spirit of sportsmanship.

And now, as you build your racer and lay your plans for the race itself, the members of the Ocean Beach Kiwanis Club wish to compliment you on your spirit and wish for each of you the best of luck. We are looking forward to seeing each of you in the Derby on June 29th next. May the best man win.

Talking Parrots, Revolving Rat Keep Things Lively at Fleetwood's Pet Store

By Marian Krettler

It appears that it is unlawful to keep squirrels and chipmunks in captivity which explains why Billy—a white rat—occupies the squirrel cage at Fleetwood's Pet Shop, 1868 Bacon street. Billy soon learned the purpose of the revolving wheel in his house, and uses it quite adequately too. Which, it seems, is not a custom with the rat family. Billy is not for sale. Besides fathering his species, thus providing stock for his owners, he is full of amusing stunts as well as curiosity. He knows when Mr. Fleetwood grinds horse meat and eagerly begs for the tiny ground bits that come his way.

Parrot Polly belongs to a Mrs. Wilson and just boards at the pet store. At first, when mistress visited her and then went away, Polly was most unhappy. Clinging to her cage bars and peering anxiously up and down the street, she emitted an unending series of nerve-wracking "huhs." She is now accustomed to her new environment. Before she receives her share of sunflower seeds she is fed her morning toast and coffee and perhaps a bit of scrambled egg. Her meal is accompanied by pleasant compliments from her caretakers along with comforting head-scratchings. Around 10 in the morning, Polly settles down for a siesta. Mrs. Fleetwood remarked, "I know it is nearing 3 o'clock when Polly wakens and begins to talk."

A beautifully plumaged male parrot, Mack, now occupies a cage near Polly, and the pair exchange remarks in friendly fashion. No question of mating, for parrots are dificult to breed in captivity. Mack is for sale, but while waiting an owner provides good company for Polly. He also has a weakness for toast and coffee with perhaps a few almonds for dessert.

Gay little zebra birds and colorful cockatoos flutter about the many cages at Fleetwood's. The splendid canary orchestra makes the days musical, amusing themselves as healthy song birds do. Inquiring about their diet, Mrs. Fleetwood explained that while seeds provide the main course, bits of apple, orange and lettuce are appreciated by the canaries. But no green stuff or cockatoos and kindred breeds. And fine gravel is a vital necessity for all birds, since it serves for grinding food in the craw and no feathered creature can live long without gravel.

Two grave menaces to canary welfare are drafts and heat, and the temperature that may be just right for you is too great for high-hanging cages.

Fleetwood's have the usual types of tropical fish as well as rarer specimens. We saw the almost transparent Rasborg, marked with a distinct black triangle on either side. The little beauties are flown in from the Amazon and bring $10 each.

The odd pencil fish swims about, apparently supporting himself on his tail, and you should see the food-laden pouch of the hatchet fish. Allowing for difference in size, he thus carries as much provender as a greedy pelican.

A word of warning from Mrs. Fleetwood. Let tap water stand in jars twenty-four hours before pouring it into the aquarium. Chlorine is added to our city water at the filtering plant but it is dissipated by aeration and standing.

Aristocratic felines together with their more common kinfolk play in the Fleetwood windows, and they and the adorable puppies attract much attention from the passer-by. Pups? You may buy a cute cross-breed or a canine of unimpeachable pedigree. We recall a very special litter of cocker spaniels that soon went out to knowing dog lovers when it was learned that they were sired by Town Talk of Stockdale—judged America's finest black cocker. The original owners had to move hurriedly, with no place for puppies in prospect, so the aristocratic litter went at real bargain prices.

Whether you buy from their store or not, the Fleetwoods offer for your information books dealing with care of birds and tropical fish which you may borrow without charge. Also, they maintain a bulletin which lists pets that may be obtained from owners. These are just two fine community services offered by those long-time residents of Ocean Beach, the Fleetwoods.

A house for your pet? Really beautiful aquariums, cages and baskets are in stock. And don't forget that there are bulbs, seeds and plants for your selection.

Where was "the boss" while we were looking over the store with Mrs. Fleetwood? He was very busy indeed. Preparing meat for our pets and trying his best to keep up with the heavy demand. Work that one enjoys is never arduous, and it is very evident that the proprietors of our up-to-the-minute pet shop like working with the little creatures that go out to make our homes more cheery.

Where Does The Telephone Strike Stand Today?

Because you, as a telephone user, have an important stake in the issues, we'd like to give some straight answers to questions you may have about the strike situation up to date.

1. Why is there a telephone strike?
The Unions made large demands. We could not agree to these demands but offered to extend contracts while bargaining continued. But the Unions refused. We then offered to arbitrate the basic issue, wages. The Unions again refused and went out on strike.

2. What are the Unions demanding?
They are demanding scores of changes in contracts which would, if granted, amount to an increase of more than $100,000,000 a year in the cost of telephone service.
This amount is five times our 1946 earnings. It would make our payroll alone larger than all the money we took in last year.

3. What do these demands mean to telephone users?
The Union demands equal $45 per year added to each telephone bill—a 40 per cent increase in all telephone rates.

4. How well are telephone employees paid now?
Studies show telephone wages are in line with those paid for other jobs on the coast requiring similar skill and training—telephone wage rates now average 58 per cent above the 1941 level. Here are typical examples:
Operators: Even a girl right out of school starts at a basic rate of $30 a week while learning—in small towns, $28 to $29. Actual earnings are higher due to overtime and premium pay. There are frequent pay raises, too. At the end of the first year the new operator can be earning over $1900 a year. A supervising operator can earn over $2700 per year working a 5-day week.
Plant Maintenance men: Actual earnings of many experienced men last year were more than $5000.
The basic rate for inexperienced men is $34 at the start and scales up to $72. Overtime and premium pay are in addition.

5. What other benefits do employees get?
Among other extra advantages are paid vacations up to three weeks depending on length of service—holidays with pay—sickness and death benefits—pensions—good working conditions.
And telephone work is steady work—the kind a person can count on.

6. Why can't the Company agree to Union demands?
Wages and other costs of service are paid by the people who use the telephone. We can't give blanket agreement to the Unions' huge demands because we cannot justify them to our customers who pay the bill.

7. How has the Company tried to end the strike?
We wanted to extend the liberal working contracts while bargaining continued. But the Unions refused. We repeatedly offered to submit the wage question—the basic issue—to arbitration. But the Unions continue to refuse.
We have offered the Unions a practical plan to settle the strike—a plan that is fair equally to our employees, investors and customers.

8. When will the strike be over?
We don't know. But we believe that no matter how long the strike lasts, it is in the public interest to face it rather than to capitulate to the Unions' huge demands which would require large increases in telephone rates.

Meanwhile we will continue to do our best to handle your calls.
Calls from dial to dial telephones, which make up the bulk of calls in many cities, are completed without interruption. Many calls which require the service of an operator are also being completed.
Many telephone company people are working days and nights on strenuous shifts to keep service going. They have been joined by many others who put the public interest first. We appreciate this loyalty.
We wish to thank the public for their helpful cooperation during this troublesome period.

Boxing Glove Which Won Dempsey Title On Display Here

Ocean Beach boxing fans will be surprised to learn that the right hand glove used by Jack Dempsey to knock out Jess Willard in the 1919 world's heavyweight championship battle is right here on Newport Ave. Manuel Dias, local tuna fisherman, came into possession of the red leather mitt when he was living in Sacramento. At that time the glove belonged to a friend of Mr. Dias, who was a state official. This friend had witnessed the fight in Toledo, Ohio, on July 4, 1919, which gained for Dempsey the world crown, and had later come into possession of the glove.

This friend first loaned the glove to Mr. Dias and later said he could keep it. Since that time Mr. Dias has been offered various sums of money for the glove but says, "I wouldn't sell it for $500." He added with a grin, however, "I might be tempted for $1000." Dias himself is an ardent fight fan, and at one time trained potential fighters for the ring.

The glove is now on display at Mrs. Dias' "Sport Shop" at 5035 Newport Ave.

The Letter Box

Dear Sirs:

It seems that all kinds of improvements are being made on our beach except a most essential one, and that is an adequate bath house for bathers. The beach has long been in need of a clean, sanitary and well-lighted house with mirrors, wash bowls, lavatories, showers, a section for changing when coming to and going from the beach, and a clothes checking system. The rest rooms now on the beach are not bath houses and bathers are warned not to use them as such.

It's more than a crime that Ocean Beach, which has grown so in the past few years, seemingly has not grown enough to allow for this important feature, the absence of which forces many beachers in bathing attire to come to and from the beach via public transportation.

Have our representatives on the city council forsaken the beach and become strictly "landlubbers" or do they feel that this growing beach city is no longer connected with the beach? We would like to see some action here.

V. L. and C. H.

A THOUSAND GENERATIONS of Acme Beer
In the early part of this century, Acme imported a famous pure culture of brewers' yeast from Europe. As each batch of beer produces a new generation, it is estimated that at least a thousand generations of Acme brewers' yeast have been descendants of this original "mother" yeast . . . another reason for Acme's tangy, refreshing flavor!

Electricity is worth waiting for
PICTURE yourself taking the "makings" for an entire dinner from your home freezer, with no need to run down to the market for meat, vegetables or fresh berries for the shortcake. Small wonder, then, that 5,000 new customers in San Diego County have applied for electric service and are waiting for the conveniences of new fully automatic ranges, water heaters, automatic washers, dishwashers, sinks, home freezers and other appliances that electricity makes possible.
And WHY some people must wait
Extending service to 5,000 new customers under existing postwar conditions requires TIME. Shortages of construction materials and trained personnel continue as major bottlenecks. Hard-to-get copper wire, transformers and line equipment are being secured in slowly increasing quantities. Many men have been employed, but training requires time. Advertisements in eastern publications for experienced workers produced poor results and prompted the establishment of a school in Chula Vista where ex-G. I.'s and others are being given a nine-months' course of training as linemen.
Our own line construction crews have been augmented by 15 additional private contractor crews and line construction is going ahead at a tremendously accelerated rate. Over 500 new customers are being connected monthly. As new services are "cut in", we frequently hear this expression: . . . "At last we have electricity; it was worth waiting for!"

HOWDY NEIGHBOR!

If you have driven around Ocean Beach lately you have probably been impressed with the many new homes being built and occupied in our community. Many of these new families among us are not well acquainted. That they are buying homes is evidence of their stability, and in choosing Ocean Beach as their homesite, they must have been aware of the many advantages our community offers.

With this large influx, it seems wise to resort to that almost forgotten practice of getting acquainted with the folks "next door." Many of us remember those happy times, when on moving to a new community, the folks in the neighborhood came to call. Their interest was not pure curiosity, but rather a sincere desire to be helpful and do what they could to help the new folks. They offered to loan tools, to assist with chores that required an extra pair of hands. They told of favorite recipes, and volunteered their services when illness struck. It was all part of a good old American custom. And, unfortunately, it has been temporarily forgotten.

It takes but little time to drop in and get acquainted. You'll gain, too, for being a good neighbor strikes a warm note in most folks' hearts.

It takes working together to build a fine, strong community, and banded together as friends and neighbors, we can create just that sort of community in Ocean Beach. Plan to do your part in welcoming the new folks as they move near you. Stretch out your hand and say, "Howdy, Neighbor, glad to have you with us!"

Heavenly Scoop

When James Gordon Bennett Jr. was guiding the destinies of the New York Herald, he issued an edict that under no circumstances should the name "Herald" appear except in italics. One printer really showed his unflinching obedience to the order when, during the holiday season, he set up a Christmas program with the following item: "Hark the Herald Angels Sing."

The following doggerel expresses very nicely the big reason for using advertising, particularly printed advertising:

The man who has the goods to sell
And who whispers down a well,
Won't gather in the dollars
Like he who climbs a tree and hollers!

Doctor (after examining the patient): "I don't like the looks of your husband, Mrs. Brown."

Mrs. Brown: "Neither do I, Doctor, but he's good to the children."

A government crop inspector visited a Kentucky farm and began asking questions:

"Do you people around here have trouble with insects getting in your corn?"

"We sure do!" said the farmer. "But we jes' fishes 'em out an' drinks it anyhow."

The older generation thought nothing of getting up at 5 o'clock in the morning; and the younger generation doesn't think so much of it either.

eling with her husband very exciting, "but it's hard to keep up with him."

At this point I took note of the suit Mrs. Roosevelt was wearing. It was a shepherd plaid suit with a row of large dark brown buttons down each side of the jacket front. She wore a white flannel shirt with the suit.

Mr. Elliott Roosevelt, who wore a navy blue wool suit with a royal blue tie, was talking enthusiastically to Mr. Herff Emerson when I interrupted him. I learned he is working on another book at present which deals with international politics and expects to complete it in another year or so. It will then go on the market for public consumption. "It involves a lot of traveling on my part which I will not complete for a long time," he stated. Mr. Roosevelt plans to continue writing "as long as people will buy what I write."

Concerning Ocean Beach Mr. Roosevelt said, "It's grown a lot since the last time I was here." Mrs. Roosevelt, of course, had more to say about her home community. "I think it's changed and has grown immensely. It's hard to recognize. It was a sleepy town when I was going to school. It's nice to be home."

When I left Mrs. Roosevelt showed me to the door. The whole interview was pleasant as all present were very helpful, particularly Mrs. Roosevelt, whose gracious manner would put anyone at ease.

great southwest and accepted a position with a banking institution in Phoenix, Ariz. He remained with them for 14 years with exception of three years away in military service. He had enlisted in the Arizona National Guard in 1913 and went with the Arizona regiment to the Mexican border for Federal service in 1916. He was still in Federal service when war was declared in 1917 and was sent to Camp Kearney near San Diego.

As a lieutenant of infantry he went to France in 1918 with the 40th division, later being transferred to the 5th division. After the armistice he was selected as representative of the 11th infantry at the A .E. F. Pistol Competition held in LeMans, France, where he received several honors in pistol marksmanship.

Returning to Phoenix in the summer of 1919 he resumed his position with the Valley Bank, and when they took over the Gila Valley Bank and Trust Company, including a chain of banks over the state, he was sent out as one of the branch managers in 1922.

In 1924 he went back into the National Guard, being given an appointment as captain, and in 1929 was offered and accepted assignment as the United States Property and Disbursing Officer for Arizona. He was still holding that assignment when ordered into Federal service in 1940 when the president declared an emergency and several National Guard divisions were mobilized. When the draft law was passed he was already on active duty and was assigned by the War Department as finance and supply officer for the state of Arizona under Selective Service, which assignment he held until entering terminal leave. He had been promoted to Lieutenant Colonel and when all officers over 60 years of age were relieved from active duty he decided to move to San Diego. He remembered the climate he had enjoyed back in 1917 and 1918.

In 1943 he married Mrs. Hazel M. Speck and they reside at 2017 Guizot St.

Lt. Col. Shaw is in the real estate business and has been secretary of the Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce since last September. His hobby is Genealogy and he has given considerable time to that work since 1918. He was awarded a fellowship in 1940 by the Institute of American Genealogy in recognition of research work and compilation of ancestral charts.

At the close of the interview, Col. Shaw modestly remarked that he is the father of 11 children and grandfather of 19. Our readers will probably agree that the Colonel has no cause for modesty about his fine family.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Sir:

Re my conversation by phone trying to convey to you that the Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce was the instigators of the fishing pier and that you were off the track.

However, no doubt by now such gentlemen as the once Senator Fletcher, Supervisor Ed Hastings, Councilman Bennett, Harbor Master Brenman; also Mssrs. R. Reed, C. Schroder, McAway, McAlpine, Thomas W. Richley, A. Lester, Rev. Malcolm, Dr. Bailey and Mr. and Mrs. Dumont. The then President McNeigle and Secretary-Treasurer H. Hartvigsen will have read the article and be wondering why you failed so badly in giving the Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce a little credit.

My only hope now is that you will get the records in order and give us some real good copy in your paper on the fishing pier and get everybody interested, especially those who have worked so hard for the last 20 years for Ocean Beach and have the pier started.

Best of luck.

Yours truly,
Arthur Hubbard.

(Editor's note: Mr. Hubbard, in his enthusiasm, neglected to mention himself as having considerable to do with the original instigation of the pier.)

PIER Continued

rial opinion, we would only recommend that the groups get together, iron out their somewhat petty differences and pull together for the good of the community.

But, to get back to an outline of the pier, based on information gathered by talking to several local sportsmen (and again we reiterate—this is not necessarily our opinion) the consensus of opinion is that the pier should be between 2500 and 3000 feet in length. This would put the business end of the structure out into the kelp beds where lurk the yellowtail and other sizeable fish.

Some sportsmen desire, and one of the petitions calls for, an arrow-shaped pier with the arrowhead part approximately 130 feet wide at its base and sloping off seaward into a point. It is claimed that this construction would afford maximum standing room and would also withstand the force of the waves. These sources also recommend that the lengthy part of the pier be approximately 20 feet wide, which is the width of the present structure at the foot of Del Monte Ave. Others recommend a T-shape construction, which would afford even more standing room, but might be more susceptible to wave action. The plans now on file in the Harbor Commission, used in the work so far completed at Del Monte Ave., call for a long straight pier with no appendages, but with a 60-foot square anchor every 700 feet.

Authorities seem to agree that at least three bait tanks should be installed at the seaward end of the pier. One of these would be the large main tank, beneath the pier flooring, which would be kept constantly stocked with live bait, and this tank would in turn stock two or three auxiliary tanks at floor level, from which the fishermen could take bait. There has been considerable argument as to whether these tanks should be maintained by the city and provide bait free of charge or whether a concession should be granted to one or more private parties to maintain the bait tanks. The latter course seems to meet with more favor, as it is argued that this would make for more efficiency and the concession lease would net the city considerable revenue.

Concessions will doubtless be granted for one or more cafes or refreshment stands, either on the pier itself or near the foot of it. Other concessions might also be granted and it is estimated that these concessions alone could allow the pier to pay for itself within a period of years.

As for the construction of the pier, many authorities, including one representative of the Harbor Commission, recommend that the steel railway rail construction, such as is now incorporated into the Del Monte pier, is the best and most durable type of piling construction, boasting considerable flexibility which is a desirable characteristic. Others believe that the pier pilings should be of concrete and steel construction. We will leave the decision in this matter in more competent and experienced hands, pausing merely to call our readers' attention to some of the possible courses of action.

Having tried to give our readers an outline of what the pier may look like, we will round out this week's column with a brief discussion of the very touchy point of just who is to get the credit if and when the pier is completed.

Several civic and political bodies and numerous public-spirited citizens are now hard at work reviving interest in the pier. The organization which probably deserves the most credit for past and present work toward providing this facility is the Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce, although such varied organizations as the Mission Bay Chamber of Commerce, the San Diego Townsend Club, the now defunct San Diego Fishing Pier Association, the San Diego Federation of Women's Republican Clubs, the West Coast Gun Club, and other groups have worked on the project and all deserve credit. Although we have been deluged with calls from individuals demanding credit either for themselves or for others for their work toward building the pier, we feel it is not wise to attempt to give credit to any individual or any list of individuals, as such a list is too vulnerable to omission. We will welcome, however, and will print any and all letters regarding the pier, whether they expound an opinion as to who has worked the hardest on the fishing pier project or as to how the structure should be built.

In summary we would like to recommend again that the business of "I did it" or "My organization did it" be submerged and each organization and individual work together toward the goal, without pausing to gouge each other or look for laurels. It is evident that there is little or no opposition to building the pier, and the city has given every indication that they will go ahead with construction as soon as materials become available. What is needed now is for all citizens to reaffirm their interest in making this community a sports paradise, cooperating among themselves and with the city. Pressure on city officials very likely will not be necessary—if it ever becomes necessary the people of Ocean Beach and other San Diegans should be ready to apply that pressure, through more petitions and united action.
